Delhi police file 3 FIRs over Jantar Mantar protest

New Delhi, Oct03 (Open Frame): The Delhi police on Saturday registered at least three FIRs in connection with Friday protests by student organisations, political parties and civil society activists who attempted to gather at Jantar Mantar, demanding the resignation of Chief Election Commissioner Gyanesh Kumar. Two FIRs were registered at Parliament Street police station and one at Connaught Place police station, invoking Section 223 of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS) for alleged disobedience of an order duly promulgated by a public servant, a senior police officer said. No individual or organisation has been named as an accused in the FIRs. However, details of organisers and organisations that proposed or participated in the demonstrations have been mentioned in the contents of the FIRs, an officer said.

Rahul launches ‘Satyagraha’ platform

New Delhi, Oct03 (Open Frame): Congress MP and Leader of Opposition in the Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi on Saturday launched “Satyagraha,” a digital platform aimed at consolidating information on various issue-based protests taking place across the country. The website was launched a day after the 157th birth anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi, whose philosophy of “Satyagraha” — peaceful resistance for truth — Rahul Gandhi invoked. In a post on X, the Raebareli MP noted that protesters can submit details about their causes, find similar movements across the country through an interactive map and seek direct support. “People across the country are fighting for their rights and often fighting alone. Gen Z, students, farmers, tribals, Dalits, women — every struggle has its own

CM calls for ‘justice for children in cyberspace’ launch ‘Total Child Online Safety Framework soon

Hyderabad, Oct03 (Open Frame): Chief Minister Revanth Reddy has announced that the state government will introduce a comprehensive ‘Child Online Safety Framework’ with an aim to safeguard children from cybercrimes and ensure they get justice. The framework would be prepared in consultation with the High Court and the Telangana State Legal Services Authority (TGSLSA). Addressing the inaugural session of the National Legal Services Authority’s South Zone Regional Conference here on Saturday, the Chief Minister launched the TGSLSA Freedom from Bonded Labour – Legal Aid, Rescue, Rehabilitation and Re-integration Scheme, 2026. The scheme provides a simple mechanism for reporting of incidents of bonded labour and spreading awareness on the rights of the labour. The Chief Minister called for involving parents in the effort to prepare the Child Online Safety Framework. “Every child and parent should know two numbers: 1930 for cybercrime and 1098 for child help,” Revanth Reddy observed. He suggested parents should speak to their children and be curious on what they are doing on internet. “Be curious, not judgemental”, he added. Protecting children and women remains the highest priority of the state, the Chief Minister declared and said that the Bharosa centres were giving police support, medical help, legal aid, and counselling to women and children under one roof. Hyderabad has India’s first Child Friendly Court. Women Safety Wing of our Police Department runs SHE-Bharosa Cyber Labs to protect children. Through CybHER app, Revanth Reddy said, the government was preparing students and teachers to stay safe online. The TGSLSA has signed an MoU with the School Education Department. Teachers are educating

Three women done to death by boyfriends

Hyderabad, Oct03 (Open Frame): Asper information shared by the police ironically on National Boyfriend Day observed on October 3 since 2014, OYO rooms, inexpensive space provided by Indian multinational hospitality chain, have turned out to be death traps for women in the Tri-Commissionerates of Hyderabad, Cyberabad and Malkajgiri. In the last 10 days, at least three women, including a medicine PG student, were found murdered under suspicious circumstances. Noticeably, in all three incidents, apparently boyfriends turned villains by killing the women. Considering the series of murders that took place in OYO rooms, police officials have directed OYO hotel organisers to take measures to prevent such incidents. Police officials said that 21-year-old Sharon Nikhitha, a native of Assam, had checked in along with a person known to her, Srinivas Ravi Teja, native of Visakhapatnam on September 21. Later, Srinivas Ravi Teja murdered her and ran away from the place. The Madhapur Police arrested the accused for killing the woman. “OYO hotels offer the premises at lower prices and miscreants choose such rooms for committing offences. There are certain guidelines for operating hospitality premises in the city. The hotel

Bhatti travels by Metro, RTC bus to review common pass facility

Hyderabad, Oct03 (Open Frame): The newly introduced RTC–Metro Common Pass enables passengers to travel more conveniently to their destinations using a single pass. To personally review the implementation and convenience of the facility, Deputy Chief Minister and Finance Minister Mallu Bhatti Vikramarka travelled by both Metro Rail and an RTC bus on Saturday. During the journey, the Deputy Chief Minister directly interacted with several passengers and enquired about their experience with the Common Pass. He asked whether they were facing any difficulties while switching from Metro to buses, and whether the new system had made their journey more convenient. Several passengers told Bhatti Vikramarka that the Common Pass was very useful. They said the availability of RTC bus services to reach their final destination after travelling by Metro was saving them time. They also said it was

BRS alleges Revanth family amassed Rs 50K crore by abusing power

Hyderabad, Oct03 (Open Frame): Bharat Rashtra Samithi (BRS) spokesperson Manne Krishank on Saturday, October 3, alleged that Telangana Chief Minister Revanth Reddy facilitated the conversion of Rs 13,000 crore in unaccounted money into legitimate funds through the Medicovert Hospital deal and demanded an Enforcement Directorate (ED) probe into the matter. Addressing a press conference at Telangana Bhavan, Krishank alleged that the Chief Minister was using his office to promote business interests connected

Ask questions, seek your right to vote: Prakash Raj

Hyderabad, Oct03 (Open Frame): Prominent South Indian actor and social activist Prakash Raj urges voters to ask questions related to the Election Commission of India’s Special Intensive Revision (SIR) exercise and hold the governments accountable. He was in Hyderabad’s Dharna Chowk on Saturday, October 3, where several had gathered demanding the immediate resignation of ECI Gyanesh Kumar following an Indian Express report alleging that he kept Election Commissioners Sukhbir Singh Sandhu and Vivek story. But the voice that rises alone often gets suppressed. ‘Satyagraha’ is an initiative to bring these voices together on a map. Babu taught us this; truth is the greatest weapon. But an even greater weapon is standing together with truth in unity. If you’re also fighting against any injustice, share your story. It will take two minutes,” Rahul Gandhi said. “Your story will appear on the map. You’ll see who else is fighting like you. And I’ll do whatever I can, in Parliament, on the streets, by writing letters, standing with you wherever I’m needed, as the Leader of the Opposition; this is my responsibility,” the former Congress president added. In a video accompanying the post, Rahul Gandhi asserted that as the Leader of Opposition, it was his “responsibility” to consolidate information about protests across the country in one place. “Protests are taking place in every corner of the country. Someone is speaking about students, someone is speaking about women, someone is protesting price rise, so there are lakhs of different protests happening across the country. I am the Leader of Opposition, and I wanted us to consolidate the information about all these protests in one place. That is why we have launched the Satyagraha website for you. Whatever your protest may be, big or small, enter your name, the name of your group, and detail what the protest is about. And if we can help you, or if you seek help from us, we will gladly support you,” Rahul Gandhi said. More than 150 submissions had already been made, with education accounting for the highest number—36. Student protests have taken place in several states over paper leaks. In July, then-Union education minister Dharmendra Pradhan resigned amid youth-led protests following the NEET-UG paper leak. The demonstrations at Jantar Mantar, Delhi’s designated protest site, were organised by the youth outfit Cockroach Janta Party.

to his family and demanded an ED investigation into their assets.He alleged that the CM and his family have amassed assets and business interests worth more than Rs 50,000 crore in the last two years.Krishank questioned the CM’s repeated participation in the inauguration of private healthcare establishments, while neglecting government hospitals and public healthcare infrastructure.He alleged that the CM and his family promoted Medicovert Hospitals while ignoring Warangal Super Speciality, Telangana Institute of Medical Sciences and Research (TIMS) Alwal, TIMS Sanathnagar, and TIMS LB Nagar.This resulted in Medicovert’s revenue increasing by 685.01 per cent in just one year before securing a Rs 13,200 crore deal with global investment firm KKR.Krishank has alleged links between Maxbien Pharma, Medicovert Hospitals and individuals connected to the Chief Minister’s family and demanded that the ownership structures, shareholdings, investments and financial transactions of these companies be independently investigated.“These are not questions being raised in the air. We are placing documents, company records and financial details before the public and the investigating agencies,” Krishank said.He said investigating agencies should examine the source of funds, beneficial ownership, shareholding patterns, related-party transactions and movement of money across the companies concerned. Krishank challenged the Chief Minister’s family members to come forward for a public debate on the allegations.“If the members of Revanth Reddy’s family come for a discussion and prove that my allegations are wrong, I will withdraw them, apologise and never speak about the Chief Minister’s family again,” he said.He said the BRS would submit details and documents relating to the alleged business interests of the Chief Minister’s family to the President of India, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Congress President Mallikarjun Kharge, Rahul Gandhi and leaders of all political parties in Telangana.Revanth Reddy demands probe into KCR’s assets Krishank’s allegations come in the wake of CM Revanth demanding a probe into former chief minister K Chandrashekar Rao and his family’s assets.Recently, while addressing a public meeting in KT Rama Rao’s constituency Sircilla, the CM said he is “ready to change his name” if he is not able to show five star hotels near Hitech City in the name of KTR and his close family members.“KTR, if you have guts, seek white paper on your assets and the assets of your father, Santosh Rao and Harish Rao (both BRS leaders and KCR’s nephews) and other relatives,” he had said.In response, KTR had said that he is ready for a probe by a sitting Supreme Court judge into his assets but also called a probe into Reddy’s assets.He said he had started a hotel way back in 2006 with the income he earned when he worked in the US.“Congress was in power in 2006. That hotel grew into three hotels in 20 years. Had I not been in politics, I would have made it 10. In 2009, I mentioned it in the election affidavit. I declared my assets, debt and the documents. What Revanth Reddy said was about what I mentioned in the 2009 affidavit,” he said. Reddy has not found anything new, he said.

Protecting Children in the Digital Age

TheSupreme Court’s decision to seek the Centre’s response to a Public Interest Litigation seeking safeguards for minors on social media is a timely intervention. It highlights a growing concern that demands urgent attention. Children today enter the digital world at an increasingly young age. Social media offers opportunities for education, communication and creativity but unregulated access can expose children to cyber-bullying, sexual exploitation, harmful content, online grooming, privacy violations, manipulation and excessive screen dependence. India already has safeguards under the Information Technology Act, 2000, the Information Technology Rules, 2021, the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act, 2012 and the Digital Personal Data Protection Act, 2023. However effective implementation remains a major challenge. The PIL appropriately raises concerns regarding age verification, parental consent and the legal capacity of minors to enter digital contracts. The Centre should develop a comprehensive child-safety framework incorporating privacy-preserving age assurance, effective parental controls, rapid removal of harmful content, stronger platform accountability and accessible grievance mechanisms.

Such safeguards should protect children without unnecessarily restricting their legitimate access to digital education. Children must be protected not merely after harm occurs but through preventive safeguards embedded in the digital environment. The Court’s intervention should therefore encourage clear, enforceable and child-centric standards for social media platforms operating in India, while safeguarding their dignity.

BJP leader called the actor’s comments unacceptable. “While criticism of the Election Commission is legitimate, comparing the CEC to idol immersion crosses the line from political dissent to disrespect for a Constitutional institution. Democracy demands debate, not derision,” Subhash said. He said Raj’s celebrity status does not give him a free pass to mock Constitutional authorities. Subhash said if Prakash Raj has issues with the SIR process, he should show proof to the right forum instead of using provocative language. “Dragging Ganesh Nimmajan into a political attack is deeply objectionable. Political disagreement cannot be an excuse to trivialise either faith or Constitutional offices,” he added.

BJP pounces on actor for flaying EC

Hyderabad, Oct03 (Open Frame): BJP has strongly criticised Telugu film actor and political commentator Prakash Raj for his remarks about Chief Election Commissioner (CEC) Gyanesh Kumar. State BJP chief spokesperson NV Subhash said on Saturday said that the actor, in an online video, urged the “Cockroach Janta Party” and others to do the “Nimmajan” (immersion) of the CEC, comparing it to the respected Ganesh Nimmajan tradition. children about their legal rights. Over 3,000 Child Protection Officers have been trained so far, the CM said. “Justice is not only about conviction. It is about restoration. It is about dignity. It is about giving back children their childhood,” he remarked. Revanth Reddy drew a parallel between Mahatma Gandhi’s fight for the weak and poor using the law and the work of LSAs. Acknowledging that the internet and AI had brought positive changes in our lives, the Chief Minister warned that innocent children could be vulnerable to misinformation. “Children can make mistakes and its consequences can be bad for themselves, for their families, and for society. Internet did not create these crimes, but it has made it easier to organise them on a global scale,” the CM observed. He said the challenge was to work towards stopping cyber-crimes against children, keeping them safe, and ensuring children get justice, he underlined.

management must record details of customers, including mobile number, date, time, and addresses. The hotel management also asks for the ID from the customers. CCTVs must be installed at the entrance of hotel premises and the data has to be stored for three months at least. For instance, the Madhapur case was detected through CCTV footage in which the boyfriend’s identities were recorded," said Madhapur Inspector K V Subba Rao. Similarly, On September 29, one B Shirisha, a woman from Vikarabad, was found dead under suspicious circumstances in a pool of blood at an OYO hotel in the SR Nagar Police Station limits. She had checked into the hotel with Srinivas, known to her. However, the fact that the two individuals rented a room at an OYO hotel using fake Aadhaar cards—bearing the names 'Ganesh' and 'Durga'—raises serious concerns regarding security in Hyderabad. During the probe, the police found that Srinivas killed the woman and ran away from the place. In the third incident, a 27 year-old medicine PG student, Komati Srujana from Hanumakonda, was found dead under suspicious circumstances in an OYO hotel room in Miyapur. In the incident, the accused killed her a few days ago and the police found a decomposed body on October 2. The Miyapur Police said that they collected CCTV footage and details from the hotel register to identify the accused in the case.

Vijay Deverakonda backs Jr NTR'S demand for strict AI misuse laws also urged netizens not to watch, share or engage with such content. "Please do not watch, share or engage with such content. Today it is some-one else. Tomorrow, it could be your mother, sister, wife or daughter," he wrote. He con-cluded by urging all state gov-ernments and the Government of India to act strongly and bring in strict regulations against the misuse of AI. Earlier in the day, actress Jahnvi Kapoor too had taken exception to the fake videos being gener-ated. Taking to X, she wrote, "It's disturbing to see AI-gen-erated fake videos being circu-lated. Please don't create, share or promote such content. This is a clear misuse of AI. "Legal action will definitely be taken against those involved. Jai Hind. #JanhviKapoor."

Telugu star Vijay Deverakonda has expressed his support for Jr NTR, who earlier in the day urged state governments and the Govern-ment of India to act strongly and bring in strict regulations against the misuse of AI. Jr NTR's appeal came in the wake of a morphed video of the song 'Chuttamalle' from his film 'Devara' being circulated on social media. Taking to X to express his wholehearted sup-port for Jr NTR and his team on the issue, Vijay Deverakonda, while quoting Jr NTR's post, wrote, "We have stooped to the levels of absolute lowlife. Whoever is responsible for this should not be spared. They must face the harshest possible legal consequences and be made an example of. We must not let this go. e went on to say, "When did we become so insen-sitive to each other. What kind of parenting is going on? What kind of society are we living in? Where we find joy in degrad-ing each other? At a time when the world is debating and fear-ing how AI disrupt livelihoods and take away jobs, these idi-ots are using that very technol-ogy to do utter nonsense." Describing the act of putting out such a video as the digital equivalent of sexual assault, the actor said, "The law must treat such acts with utmost se-riousness." He ended his note by saying, "And to the team standing up against this, you have my full support." Earlier in the day, Jr NTR said he would take every possible le-gal action against those who had created a morphed video of the song 'Chuttamalle' from is film 'Devara' and those who were spreading it. Taking to X to react to the morphed video circulating on social media, the actor wrote, "Disgusting, Sick and Shameless. "In a land that worships women as mothers and god-esses, where 'Matrudevo Bhava' is not just a phrase but a part of our culture, some people have fallen so low that they are using AI to disrespect a woman in the most degrad-ing way possible. Using AI to create something this vile is shameful beyond words." Jr NTR directly addressed those who had circulated the morphed video, writing, "To the scumbags behind this morphed Chuttamalle video, I will not spare any of you. I will take every possible legal action against those who created it and those who are spreading it." He

Drishyam 3 Wins Big Even Without Dhurandhar Villain

One of the biggest talking points around Drishyam 3 was the absence of Akshaye Khanna, who was expected to reprise his role from the previ-ous instalments. The actor's popularity had increased sig-nificantly after his memorable performance as the ruthless Rehman Dacoit in Durandhar. Many fans felt his cool yet menacing portrayal of the vil-lain was one of the blockbuster's highlights of Dhurandhar, and his demand in Bollywood grew overnight. So naturally, Akshay Khanna was on a high, and he de-manded big bucks to continue his role as a cop in the Hindi franchise Drishyam 3. owever, talks failed, and Akshay rejected the film just five days ahead of the shoot. his left the team to look for an alternative, and they eventu-ally cast Paatal Lok fame Jaideep

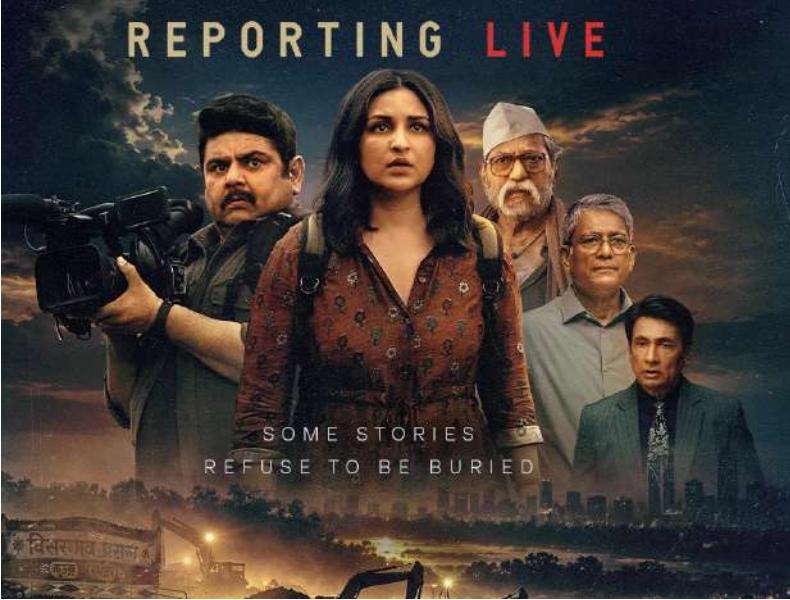

Ahlawat in the role. Drishyam 3 has opened to a blockbuster talk, and the decision to replace Akshay has not hurt the film in any way. In fact, Jaideep Ahlawat has emerged as one of the film's biggest strengths. Playing a Crime Branch officer, Jaideep gets substantial screen space and several powerful scenes in the Ajay Devgn starrer. The Drishyam 3 team was reportedly concerned about how viewers would react to the casting change, but those fears seem to have disappeared. The film has opened to massive col-lections across North India as Drishyam 3 has become Ajay Devgn's biggest open-ing to date. Another major factor behind the film's suc-cess is the way the Hindi ver-sion has been adapted. Un-like the Malayalam original, Drishyam 3 features several key changes that have connected strongly with Hindi au-diences. The combination of franchise value, strong perfor-mances, and smart casting has paid off in a big way.

Actress Parineeti A cho Chopra is set to explore new terri-tory with 'Reporting Live', stepping into a role she says immediately drew her in with its cu-riosity, fearlessness and relentless pursuit of truth. Inspired by true events, Reporting Live is an in-vestigative thriller star-ring Parineeti and Deven Bhojani as a reporter and cameraman whose inves-tigation into illegal sand mining pulls them into a dangerous web of power, crime, and survival. Speaking about taking on the character, Parineeti said: "This is my second inning with Net-flix this year, in the thriller genre, but with a new avatar. I was imme-diately drawn to the spirit of this character, some-one who is curious, fear-less, and unwilling to stop until she gets to the truth. "And working with such a verified ensemble made the experi-ence even more special, and I'm looking forward to the audience uncovering this story," Parineeti said. The trailer dives into the world where illegal sand mining is big business, and digging too deep can come with a deadly price. NTR's First & Furious Reaction to the Chuttamalle AI Video

In the last few hours, an AI-created Chuttamalle morphed video has been circulating on social media. As an example of the adverse effects of techno-logical advancements, the ed-ited clip from the song portrays Jahnvi in a derogatory man-ner and NTR in an objectionable way. The video has been cut in such a manner, and it is being widely circulated. However, many have reacted with severe outrage and are calling for it to be taken down. NTR has also shared his reaction, express-ing is anger over the incident. Taking to X, NTR wrote, "To the scumbags behind this morphed Chuttamalle video, I will not spare any of you. I will take every possible legal action against those who created it and those who are spreading it." NTR is very serious about the unnecessary sharing of the morphed video, done only for pleasure. He said atrudevob-hava is not just a phrase but part of culture, and urged gov-ernments to act strongly and introduce99 trict regulations against AI misuse. arlier, a lot of female actors were subject-ed to deepfake vid-eos and trolling because of the morphed pictures. Each time, the actors urge everyone to stop spread-ing them, and some have initiated legal action too. In the Chuttamalle case, those who did it crossed every line, and it's simply unacceptable. Chuttamalle is a popular song from NTR and Jahnvi starrer Devara: Part 1, directed by Koratala Siva.

Rashi Khanna's Ethnic Era Is Here

Raashi Khanna has given fans a refreshing ethnic look in a mono-chrome blue and white ensemble. The actress picked a sheer sleeve-less blouse with pearl detailing, paired with a light-weight saree featuring geometric prints and intri-cate peacock and lotus motifs along the pallu. The deep blue border added a striking contrast to the soft white base, giving the outfit an elegant touch. She completed the look with a pearl choker, matching earrings, and styled wavy hair with bangs, while her warm smile made the photoshoot even more charming. On the work front, Raashi appeared in Ustaad Bhagat Singh and Sardar 2 this year, but both films failed to click at the box office.
