Nepali Woman Arrested After Five-Month Run in IPS Officer's Wife Murder Case

Hyderabad, Oct26 (Open Frame): Takinga serious note of the murder of a retired IPS officer's wife, the Hyderabad police formed a separate human intelligence network, deployed teams in Nepal and finally arrested a 26-year-old Nepalese woman identified as a key accused in the case. Five months after the murder within the Jubilee Hills police limits, Hyderabad police arrested four accused on Monday for killing Tajuna, wife of retired IPS officer Vinay Ranjan Ray. Posing as tourists, a Hyderabad police team spent five months in Nepal tracking the movements of the key accused and gathering leads. Hyderabad Police Commissioner VC Sajjanar said four persons, including a key woman accused, were arrested in connection with the murder. They were identified as Dharma Tiruwa alias Kalpana, 26, a domestic maid from Bolo, Ward No. 2, Chakune, Surkhet, Nepal; Ganesh BK, 31, from Dailekh, Nepal; Chandra Bahadur Tamang, 44, a cook from Dolakha district, Nepal; and Ganesh Bahadur Shahi, 37, a watchman from Kailali, Nepal. "To track down the suspects, the SIT conducted extensive field operations across multiple states, visiting Bengaluru, Mumbai, Pune, Surat, Patna, Delhi, Lucknow and Uttarakhand. "The team travelled to the India-Nepal borders and camped there for over five months, carrying out intensive field inquiries in remote and hilly terrains to gather crucial intelligence about the accused. The team developed reliable local informers across various regions to obtain real-time intelligence regarding their hideouts, travel routes, employment and local contacts," Sajjanar said. The Commissioner said seamless coordination among ground teams, technical analysts and local informers ultimately enabled the police to track the suspects' movements and apprehend them. In June 2025, Kalpana migrated to Hyderabad through her relative, Jogi, and was employed as a domestic maid at a residence in Jubilee Hills on a monthly salary of approximately Rs 20,000. During her employment, she remained in close contact with Bikas, a Nepalese national based in Pune. Bikas persistently enquired about her employer, household assets and valuables before proposing a planned robbery in exchange for a share of the booty. "On May 7, the accused entered the residence of a retired IPS officer and went to the bedroom where the victim, Tajuna, was sleeping. When she suddenly woke up, Sujan Shahi gagged and assaulted her, while Ganesh BK restrained her and tied her limbs, causing her death by suffocation. The accused ransacked the almirahs and looted gold jewellery and other valuables. "After committing the crime, the accused escaped through the rear gate, proceeded to Nampally Railway Station and joined Group-II. The entire gang travelled towards Kazipet, retreated to isolated hilly terrain and divided the stolen property into nine equal shares. To evade police detection, they split into three smaller groups, fled to Nepal and disposed of the stolen valuables at various locations there," Sajjanar said.

making process, the poll body said files are generally examined first by one Election Commissioner, then the other, before being placed before the CEC. In urgent cases, approvals are obtained electronically and recorded on the file subsequently. The affidavit stressed that observations or queries raised by any of the three members while a file is being processed cannot be treated as a formal decision under Section 18 of the Chief Election Commissioner and Other Election Commissioners Act, 2023. The Commission also said it had neither released nor authorised the release of any internal note or file to the media. On the controversy surrounding changes to Form 6, used for voter registration, the ECI told the court that the form itself had not been amended.It said only the Centre had the authority to amend the prescribed form, while the declaration required for the SIR process was a separate document. However, the Commission acknowledged that the online presentation of the application could be interpreted as an amendment. It said that from October 21, the online application would be split into Form 6 and the separate declaration, in line with the physical application format. The ECI also said that voters whose details could not be mapped during the revision would not ordinarily be required to attend hearings. Booth-level officers (BLOs) would collect the necessary documents from their homes, with hearings reserved for exceptional cases and preferably conducted online. Addressing concerns over the ECINet system, the Commission said no voter's name could be added to or deleted from the electoral roll without an order from the Electoral Registration Officer (ERO). It added that a committee comprising experts from the Indian Institutes of Technology (IIT) and the Indian Institute of Science (IISc) had been set up to examine compliance with the prescribed safeguards. On the controversy over 97 voters in Goa who were initially described as having been left out of the electoral rolls, the ECI said 88 had already been enrolled, six were abroad and three held Portuguese passports. The affidavit also addressed a July 28 work allocation order issued by an Additional Secretary on deputation to the Commission.

It may be recalled that the makers had, some months ago, released a Character poster of Anupama in the film. The poster showed Anupama in a village belle avatar walking barefoot on a dusty rural path. She was seen carrying a large woven basket filled with green leaves on her head while holding more leaves in one hand and a tiffin box in the other. Her attire was rustic, an earthy half saree with a faded blouse, styled in a traditional manner. Her expression was intense and determined, hinting at a strong, hardworking character. Behind her, the backdrop showed a raw, authentic village setup with mud huts, wooden fences, and cattle.

Ramayana Songs Struggle to Match Adipurush's Musical Impact

The upcoming mythological epic Ramayana has generated considerable anticipation with its impressive cast, grand scale and ambitious musical collaboration. However, the songs released so far have drawn mixed reactions, with some listeners questioning whether the soundtrack has achieved the devotional impact expected from a film based on the revered Indian epic. Directed by Nitesh Tiwari, the film stars Ranbir Kapoor as Lord Rama and Sai Pallavi as Sita. The music is being composed by Oscar-winning composer A.R. Rahman in collaboration with acclaimed Hollywood musician Hans Zimmer, raising expectations for a soundtrack that appeals to audiences in India and internationally. Despite the high-profile musical team, some fans feel that the released tracks have yet to create the spiritual atmosphere and emotional connection they anticipated. Comparisons have emerged with Adipurush, the 2023 mythological drama starring Prabhas, whose music was composed by Ajay–Atul. Although Adipurush faced substantial criticism over several aspects of its execution, its songs reportedly continued to resonate with listeners and feature in devotional celebrations. The latest discussion highlights the importance of music in mythological cinema, where songs can contribute significantly to the portrayal of divine characters and the emotional depth of the narrative. With Yash playing Ravana and Sunny Deol portraying Hanuman, Ramayana: Part One remains one of the most anticipated Indian film releases. The film is scheduled to reach theatres on November 5, 2026. The impact of its remaining songs and background score will be closely watched as the makers prepare for the theatrical release.
