India pledges Rs 15,000-cr package to boost Nepal's recovery, growth

Both nations to review 1950 treaty, resolve boundary row via talks

New Delhi, Nov 23 (Open Frame): Reaffirming India's commitment to Nepal's development and prosperity, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Monday announced a Rs 15,000-crore assistance package for the Himalayan nation, including Rs 3,500 crore in grants for post-disaster reconstruction and infrastructure and Rs 11,500 crore in a line of credit for energy projects.

The announcement followed talks between PM Modi and his Nepalese counterpart Balendra Shah, who was on his first bilateral visit to India since assuming office. The package, equivalent to 24,000 crore Nepalese rupees, is aimed at supporting Nepal's long-term development and recovery from the devastating floods that struck the country in August.

The two neighbouring nations also agreed to review their 1950 Treaty of Peace and Friendship and other existing bilateral agreements on the basis of mutual consent, while committing to resolve outstanding boundary, water, energy and trade-related issues through dialogue.

The understanding is part of a 10-pillar Joint Vision Document, titled Viksit Bharat and Samunnat Nepal: Re-imagining the Partnership, adopted by Prime Ministers Narendra Modi and Balendra Shah during the latter's visit to India.

- PM Modi also called for greater cooperation between young creators from both countries to take their shared Ramayana heritage to global audiences through films and modern technology. A large Nepalese delegation will be welcomed at the next WAVES Summit. Cooperation in sports infrastructure and athlete training, particularly in cricket, will also be expanded.
- Eight memoranda of understanding were exchanged during the visit, covering forensic sciences, police training, civil service capacity-building, traditional medicine, satellite communication, sustainable urban development, healthcare, and livestock and fisheries development.

Emphasising the deep-rooted ties between the two neighbours, PM Modi described India and Nepal as partners bound by "kinship and enduring trust", saying they shared both their joys and challenges and stood by each other in difficult times. "India has always been a committed partner in Nepal's journey towards becoming a strong and prosperous nation," he said, adding that the decisions taken during the visit would elevate bilateral relations to new heights.

Shah acknowledged India's humanitarian and technical assistance following the devastating Rasuwa-Bhotekoshi floods, which caused significant loss of life and property in Nepal. The two leaders also adopted a Joint Vision for a "Viksit Bharat and Samunnat Nepal", providing a roadmap for an ambitious partnership covering economic development, connectivity, energy, education, technology and people-to-people ties.

A major thrust of the engagement was to strengthen Nepal's energy potential through India's market and investment capabilities. PM Modi said Nepal's rivers held immense potential for clean energy generation and India's vast energy market could turn this into a strong foundation for Nepal's economic prosperity.

The two leaders virtually laid the foundation stone for the 669-MW Lower Arun Hydroelectric Project and reaffirmed their commitment to the timely completion of the Arun-3 project. They also called for expediting the Pancheshwar Multipurpose Project and accelerating work on the Saptakoshi and Sunkoshi projects.

SC Rejects PIL on UP Voter List Discrepancies

New Delhi, Nov 23 (Open Frame): The Supreme Court on Monday declined to entertain a public interest litigation (PIL) seeking directions for rectification of discrepancies in house numbers recorded in municipal electoral rolls across Uttar Pradesh. A Bench of Chief Justice of India (CJI) Surya Kant and Justices Joymalya Bagchi and V. Mohana questioned the maintainability of the plea as a PIL, observing that the right to seek correction of an electoral-roll entry was personal in nature and that aggrieved voters must approach the competent authorities individually.

"The right to correct an electoral roll is personal. In the municipal list also, there will be certain rules. Let the individuals approach the authorities. But on a collective basis, it can only be when it is done across the state," the CJI Kant-led Bench observed.

The petitioner had contended that changes in house numbers had not been appropriately reflected in municipal electoral rolls, resulting in discrepancies in voter lists across Uttar Pradesh. The plea stated that several residents had witnessed changes in their house numbers, but the corresponding corrections had not been incorporated into municipal voter lists. It further claimed that representations submitted to the authorities concerned seeking rectification had failed to yield any corrective action.

The PIL also sought directions for aligning municipal electoral rolls with the electoral lists prepared for Lok Sabha and Assembly elections, arguing that consistency between the different electoral databases would prevent confusion and inconvenience to voters.

However, the Supreme Court said that complaints concerning incorrect house numbers or other particulars in electoral rolls should ordinarily be raised by the affected individuals themselves before the competent election authorities under the applicable rules.

Nvidia Reinstates Jensen Huang as CEO Amid Controversy

Washington, Nov 23 (Open Frame):Nvidia's board reinstated Jensen Huang as president and CEO Monday in a surprise move, just days after rejecting his offer to return to the artificial intelligence chipmaker. It was the latest twist in the fallout from Huang's admission of an affair with a woman suspected of being a Chinese spy. "The Board believes Jensen is the right person to lead NVIDIA, and that his reinstatement is in the best interests of our stockholders, employees, partners and customers," board Chairman Harvey C. Jones said in a statement. President Donald Trump said he spoke to Huang on Sunday about the reinstatement, and the CEO assured him that he would work harder than before his fall.

Speaking to CNBC, Trump took credit for Huang's reinstatement. "I believe my intervention was very important," he said. Trump also said his administration assured Nvidia there were no national security concerns about Huang's return.

"The board decided to do what we wanted them to do," the president said. Trump declined to say whether he called into the board meeting, though he said, "Basically, I was represented at the board."

Huang said in a statement that he was "honoured" to return to the company and that he takes the responsibility "with the greatest humility and renewed commitment." He thanked Jones and interim CEO Colette Kress, who will return to her role as chief financial officer, as well as Nvidia's executive staff for their leadership during the brief period of disorder. "I am also deeply thankful to our employees, shareholders, leaders across the industry and partners around the world for their extraordinary support," Huang's statement said. "Above all, I am grateful for the love and support of my family. I can't wait to get back to work."

50 Crore Indians Lifted Out of Poverty: Sitharaman

New Delhi, Nov 23 (Open Frame): Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Monday said that under Prime Minister Narendra Modi's leadership, India has witnessed a fundamental shift from temporary relief to removing the barriers that perpetuate poverty. Reflecting on the latest World Bank report which showed that nearly 50 crore Indians had moved out of poverty between 2011 and 2023, while extreme poverty has been almost eradicated, FM Sitharaman said these figures captured the transformation "I had witnessed firsthand".

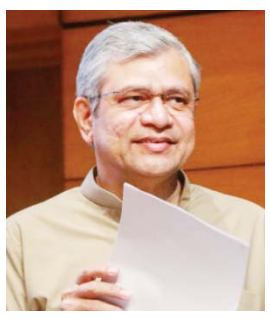

"The Prime Minister has said that Viksit Bharat, like freedom, is a commitment that every Indian must live. Having achieved in ten years what remained unfulfilled for six decades, India can face the next twenty with confidence. With the resolve of 140 crore Indians, Viksit Bharat by 2047 is within our reach, and we together will get there," FM Sitharaman said in an article posted on LinkedIn.

She said that for over six decades after Independence, eradicating mass poverty remained an unfulfilled promise.

"Even in the early 2010s, India was portrayed abroad as a home of enduring destitution, lagging in sanitation, nutrition, clean cooking fuel and banking. The prevailing prescription was simply to put money into the hands of the poor, and poverty would take care of itself," the Finance Minister mentioned. Guided by Antyodaya, the welfare of the last person in the line, "our Government chose the harder path of addressing deprivations, household by household, ensuring development reached those who needed it most," she noted.

"Our Government made every intervention targeted at those who needed it, focused on measurable outcomes and tailored to the deprivation it was meant to remove. There was no magic wand. Each scheme required careful identification of beneficiaries, effective delivery and follow-up until the last household was reached," said FM Sitharaman.

Bullet Train Trials from May 2027

New Delhi, Nov 23 (Open Frame): India's first bullet train project is moving closer to a key milestone, with trial runs on the 50-km Surat-Bilimora section of the Mumbai-Ahmedabad High-Speed Rail Corridor expected to begin in May 2027, Railway Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw said on Monday. According to the minister, signalling work on the section is expected to be completed by January next year, while electrification has already been finished.

The overhead equipment on the stretch was energised on November 20, covering both up and down lines on the elevated alignment. The corridor is being powered through a 2×25 kV traction system, and installation work at the Bilimora traction substation has also been completed. Vaishnaw said the Mumbai-Ahmedabad bullet train project would be commissioned in phases. The Ahmedabad-Vapi section is targeted for completion by the end of 2027, while services are expected to extend up to Thane by 2029.

ED Summons AAP MLA in Land Fraud Case

Chandigarh, Nov 23 (Open Frame): The Enforcement Directorate (ED) has summoned Moga Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) legislator, Dr Amandeep Kaur Arora, and her aides and associates for questioning as part of its investigation into alleged land fraud and money laundering involving government land and compensation funds.

The ED has summoned the AAP legislator for further investigation as part of a money-laundering investigation into alleged fraudulent acquisition of seven land parcels belonging to government and wrongful disbursement of compensation. The agency has sought more details and documents related to these properties from Arora, who has been directed to appear before ED's Chandigarh-based zonal office on November 25. I4C Warns Govt Officials Against Sharing Sensitive Data on WhatsApp Web

New Delhi, NOv 23 (Open Frame): The Union Home Ministry's nodal cyber security agency I4C has cautioned government functionaries against sharing sensitive information through WhatsApp Web sessions, a move that follows detection of suspicious activities of 'Pakistan-based intelligence operatives'. The cybersecurity advisory cautioning against using WhatsApp Web for official or sensitive work follows a probe that revealed Pakistan-based intelligence operatives infiltrated over 50 defence-related WhatsApp groups, said an official source on Monday.

Advising government officials to avoid staying logged in on computers and laptops, the National Cybercrime Threat Analytics Unit (NCTAU), Indian Cyber Crime Coordination Centre (I4C), warned that such sessions could be misused to take control of the account for fraud or phishing, said an official statement. Sources said the Pakistan-based intelligence operatives used spoofed Indian numbers to join as 'dead members', monitoring chats in groups linked to the NSG, CRPF, commandos, and even DRDO without drawing attention.

Indian security agencies have now directed audits to remove unverified members of WhatsApp groups. The I4C observed that an authenticated WhatsApp Web session may, under certain circumstances, be misused to gain unauthorised access to a user's WhatsApp account. Such unauthorised access may allow a malicious person to read messages, send messages while impersonating the user, access contacts and group conversations, and misuse the trusted identity of the account holder for fraud, phishing, social engineering or other malicious activities, said I4C in the statement.

"The users are, therefore, advised to exercise caution while using WhatsApp Web, particularly on office computers, shared systems, public computers or devices that may be accessible to other persons," said the statement.

The I4C advisory also suggested precautionary measures like logging out after each session or using incognito/private browsing mode when use is unavoidable.

TG's Water Rights Were Sacrificed Under BRS Rule: Revanth

- CM cites official records to allege that KCR and Harish Rao agreed to a larger Krishna water share for Andhra Pradesh during BRS rule.
- Revanth questions the previous government's silence over Andhra Pradesh projects and alleged diversion of Krishna waters.

Hyderabad, Nov 23 (Open Frame): Telangana Chief Minister A. Revanth Reddy on Monday accused former Chief Minister K Chandrasekhar Rao and former irrigation minister T. Harish Rao of mortgaging Telangana's rights to Andhra Pradesh in the Krishna River water allocation and utilisation, and of allowing illegal construction of the projects by the neighbouring state.

Addressing a press conference, the Chief Minister cited official records to launch an attack on Bharat Rashtra Samithi (BRS) leaders and accused them of compromising Telangana's water rights during BRS rule.

He alleged that the decisions made by K. Chandrasekhar Rao (KCR) and Harish Rao led to an injustice to Telangana.

Revanth Reddy alleged that after the formation of Telangana, the KCR government failed to protect the state's interests regarding the allocation of Krishna River waters. It was stated that in a meeting held on June 26, 2015, in the presence of the then Union Minister for Water Resources, Uma Bharti, KCR and Harish Rao agreed to a water allocation of 512 TMC for Andhra Pradesh and 298.96 TMC for Telangana. The Chief Minister questioned the BRS leadership for not advocating strongly for the state's interests. The previous government had also agreed to continue this same allocation arrangement on January 29, 2020, the CM charged.

On February 24, 2022, a GO - 482 was issued, allocating 0.22 TMC of water to the Prakasam district; the Chief Minister alleged that the previous government acted in a way that increased the scope for diverting water to Andhra Pradesh. Stating that the Congress government is continuously fighting to protect the state's rights in Krishna River waters, CM Revanth Reddy lashed out at BRS leaders K. T. Rama Rao and Harish Rao for misleading the public about the Palnadu Water Grid. The Chief Minister accused them of attempting to tarnish the Congress government's reputation through "lies and half-truths".

Chief Minister A. Revanth Reddy alleged that the previous BRS government compromised Telangana's Krishna River water rights by agreeing to allocate 512 TMC to Andhra Pradesh against 298.96 TMC for Telangana. Citing the June 26, 2015 meeting held in the presence of then Union Water Resources Minister Uma Bharti, he questioned KCR and Harish Rao for failing to protect the state's interests. He said the same allocation arrangement was continued in January 2020, causing injustice to Telangana.

Disclosing all the documentary evidence pertaining to the Palnadu Water Grid project, the CM pointed out that the GO No. 56 was issued on February 16, 2022, during the tenures of the then-Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister Y.S. Jagan and Telangana Chief Minister KCR. The Chief Minister explained that the project, aimed at meeting the drinking water needs of the Palnadu and Guntur districts, was undertaken under the 'Jal Jeevan Mission' with an outlay of 1,200 crore, and that proposals were drafted to secure a matching grant of 500 crore from the Central government.

At the time of the finalisation of the project, the CM questioned the then KCR government for not raising any objections either with the Krishna River Management Board (KRMB) or under the Jal Jeevan Mission.

CM Revanth Reddy revealed that soon after the matter came to their attention, the state government lodged a complaint with the Krishna Board, and Minister Uttam Kumar Reddy also submitted a complaint to the Central Government, demanding that the works be halted. Recalling that in 2004, 6 members from the TRS (now BRS) served as ministers in Y.S. Rajasekhara Reddy's cabinet, the Chief Minister alleged that it was during this period permissions were granted to increase the capacity of the Pothireddypadu head regulator from 11,000 cusecs to 44,000 cusecs.

The same issue was also mentioned in the budget demands presented in the Legislative Assembly on March 29, 2005, and the relevant Government Order (GO) was issued on September 13 in the same year. The CM questioned Harish Rao as to why those who were ministers at the time did not raise any objections in the Assembly.

The Chief Minister said permissions were granted in the past for the diversion of water to Andhra Pradesh through projects such as Handri-Niva, Pothireddypadu, Muchumarri, and Malyala. On July 24, 2004, a GO was issued that effectively buried the water rights of the Telangana region, facilitating the diversion of 40 TMC of water through the first phase of the Handri-Neeva Sujala Sravanthi project.

At that time, Harish Rao was a member of the cabinet. Permission was also granted for the Muchumarri project to draw water from the dead storage of the Srisailam reservoir. Permission was granted to draw water through the Rayalaseema lift scheme at an FRL (Full Reservoir Level) of 797.

Hyderabad, Nov 23 (Open Frame): State Minister for Sports and Youth Services Vakiti Srihari on Monday performed the foundation stone ceremony for a new degree college building to be constructed at a cost of 9 crore near the Irrigation Office in Makthal. Speaking on the occasion, the Minister said education was the foundation of Makthal's development and that his vision was to transform the town into a major education and sports hub. He stated that although the government generally allocates 6 crore for a degree college building, he had secured a special allocation of 9 crore for Makthal with the support of Chief Minister A. Revanth Reddy.

Recalling the difficulties faced by students due to the absence of a degree college in the past, he said many students had been forced to discontinue their education. He pointed out that around 540 students were currently pursuing degree courses in Makthal. He assured that construction work would begin immediately and the new building would be inaugurated during Karthika Masam next year. He also announced that a PG College would be established in Makthal soon, along with a Mini Ravindra Bharathi. The Minister said development works worth approximately 2,000 crore were underway across the constituency. He highlighted the establishment of a Veterinary Research Centre and improvements in the judicial infrastructure. He further announced that a 150-bed hospital would be inaugurated next month and an Integrated School would begin functioning from the next academic year.

Referring to local development, he mentioned the works undertaken at the Paschima Anjaneya Swamy Temple pond and temple tower, as well as the development of the mosque near the Eidgah. He also revealed that steps were being taken to increase water storage in the Sangambanda Project by an additional one TMC. Clarifying the sand issue, the Minister said locally available sand was being utilised for government development works and was no longer being transported to Hyderabad as in the past.

He assured that the interests of local residents would be protected. He also expressed his determination to construct a modern stadium with advanced facilities in Makthal, alleging that certain people were deliberately creating obstacles. Reiterating his commitment to developing Makthal as a Study Hub and Sports Hub, he said education, healthcare and sports would receive top priority.

"Positions are not permanent, but development works remain forever," the Minister said, adding that serving the people of his native region was his responsibility and privilege.

Vijayalakshmi Stresses Humane Approach to Public Grievances

Hyderabad, Nov 23 (Open Frame): State Planning Board Vice-Chairperson and CM Prajavani In-charge Gadwal Vijayalakshmi instructed officials to accord the highest priority to resolving public grievances and respond responsibly to every petition received at Prajavani by taking prompt steps towards their resolution. On Monday, she visited the Hyderabad District Collectorate Prajavani along with District Collector Dr. Priyanka Ala, interacted directly with the public and received their representations.

Speaking on the occasion, she said that people approach Prajavani with the hope and confidence that their problems will be resolved, and that it is the responsibility of officials to uphold that trust.

She made it clear that officials should not consider their responsibility fulfilled merely by receiving petitions, registering online and forwarding to the concerned departments. Instead, they must continuously monitor every grievance and take proactive steps towards its resolution. She particularly stressed that the concerned departments must necessarily take action on petitions received through CM Prajavani, obtain Action Taken Reports (ATRs) and review the progress of their disposal. She instructed officials to fix timelines for resolving pending petitions based on the seriousness and priority of the issues. Grievances that can be resolved immediately must be addressed without delay, while other issues must be resolved within specified timeframes. Unnecessary delays should not be tolerated, she stated. She particularly called upon officials to focus on pendency relating to Housing, Electricity, Gruha Jyothi, 2BHK houses, various categories of pensions and other such departments and work in coordination to reduce the backlog.

She further emphasised that officials must deal with petitioners with sensitivity, patience and a humane approach. They should devote adequate time to every person approaching them with a grievance and listen to their representations attentively. She also instructed officials to coordinate with the concerned departments and ensure that issues which can be resolved immediately are addressed on the spot.

In view of the large number of petitioners attending Prajavani, she suggested introducing a token system at the Hyderabad District Collectorate to ensure systematic receipt of petitions. She stressed that adequate arrangements should be made to provide everyone an opportunity to present their grievances. She appealed to petitioners from various districts across the State to make use of CM Prajavani conducted at Praja Bhavan every Tuesday and Friday.

Komatireddy Questions BJP's Contribution to Telangana

Hyderabad, Nov 23 (Open Frame): Telangana Minister Komatireddy Venkat Reddy on Monday launched a sharp attack on the BJP, questioning why its national president Nitin Nabin and Union Home Minister Amit Shah were visiting Telangana despite the Centre's alleged failure to deliver on its promises to the state.

Speaking to the media at Gandhi Bhavan, Komatireddy challenged Union Minister G. Kishan Reddy and BJP MP Bandi Sanjay to explain what the BJP government at the Centre had done for Telangana. He also questioned why the Regional Ring Road (RRR) project was kept pending, stating that despite efforts to secure approval through Union Minister Nitin Gadkari, the project was not placed before the Cabinet. The minister asserted that there was no anti-incumbency against the Congress government in Telangana and expressed confidence that the party would win at least 90 seats in the next Assembly elections. He added that, according to his political strategy, Congress could secure more than 100 seats. He said the next election results would prove his assessment.

Komatireddy further stated that the party's immediate priority was to win the upcoming Graduate MLC elections, expressing confidence in Congress's victory. He also said he would discuss with the party incharge the need to give positions to those who work hard and remain committed to the party. Hyderabad Hosts 3rd Telangana State Police Duty Meet 2026 to Select National Contingent

Hyderabad, Nov 23 (Open Frame): Hyderabad City Police Commissioner Dr. Mahesh Muralidhar Bhagwat, IPS, expressed confidence that the Telangana Police Department—which has clinched the 'Overall Team Championship' at three consecutive All India Police Duty Meets—will continue its winning streak in the upcoming national-level competitions as well. Attending as the Chief Guest at the inaugural ceremony of the '3rd Telangana State Police Duty Meet – 2026' held at the RBVRR Telangana Police Academy on Monday, he formally declared the meet open.

Addressing the gathering, the Commissioner stated that the evidence observed and preserved within the first few minutes by the first officer arriving at a crime scene shapes the direction of the entire investigation. He reminded the personnel that under the new criminal laws (BNS, BNSS, and BSA) that came into effect on July 1, 2024, recording audio and video evidence at the crime scene through 'e-Sakshya' has become mandatory. He noted that responsibilities previously handled by the Clues Team must now be efficiently executed by personnel at every police station level, and the practice gained at this Duty Meet will greatly aid in this regard. He also commended the participants for putting up an impressive march-past with just a single day of practice.

He explained that this four-day meet is being conducted to select the state contingent for the All India Police Duty Meet, scheduled to be held in Mumbai from December 15 to 20 under the aegis of the Railway Protection Force (RPF). Since winners from the past three years are ineligible to participate again as per the rules, new talent will be identified and provided 15 to 20 days of specialized training under the supervision of the CID wing before being sent to the All India Police Duty meet. He advised the personnel to observe how colleagues from other units perform, uphold discipline, and embrace the spirit of learning and teaching one another during the meet. He urged them to bring the same level of care to every event here as they would to an assignment in the field.

Earlier, delivering the welcome address, Additional CP (Crimes & SIT) Sri M. Srinivasulu, IPS, informed that around 500 competitors from 16 contingents across the state (Zones 1 to 7, Commissionerates, CID, Intelligence, OCTOPUS, Greyhounds, Cyber Security Bureau, TGSP, etc.) are participating in the meet. He detailed that competitions will be held across 21 events under six major disciplines—Scientific Aids to Investigation, Police Photography, Police Videography, IT Proficiency, Dog Squad, and Anti-Sabotage Check—over the next four days.

Jammu, Nov 23 (Open Frame): Inaugurating the new Seismological Observatory in the high seismic zone of Kishtwar today through the Ministry of Earth Sciences, Union Minister of State (Independent Charge) for Science & Technology, Earth Sciences, Minister of State in the Prime Minister's Office, Department of Atomic Energy and Department of Space, Dr Jitendra Singh today highlighted the significant expansion of meteorological and weather monitoring infrastructure in Jammu & Kashmir after 2014, particularly in the erstwhile Doda district, with additional installations brought in after the Chasoti cloudburst tragedy last year.

Addressing the gathering, Dr Jitendra Singh said that the India Meteorology Department (IMD) had strengthened the weather monitoring network in the region from not a single Doppler Weather Radar in 2014 to 4 installed in last 12 years and 4 more being installed making it total 8; Automatic Weather Stations from 3 to 12 out of which 4 for Kishtwar and 2 each for Doda and Ramban.

Dr. Srinivasa Kumar Tummala, Secretary, Ministry of Earth Sciences, Govt of India, Senior Scientist Suresh and others came specially from Delhi for the event.

MLA Padder-Nagseni Constituency and Leader of Opposition, J&K Legislative Assembly, Sh. Sunil Sharma; MLA of the Kishtwar Assembly Constituency and Ms. Shagun Parihar also spoke on the occasion. Deputy Commissioner Kishtwar, Pankaj Sharma and SSP Kishtwar Sunny Gupta were also present among others.

The Minister said, the expansion of scientific and weather monitoring infrastructure has also strengthened the region's disaster preparedness in an area that is vulnerable to earthquakes, landslides and other weather-related challenges.

The new observatory at Kishtwar is equipped with state-of-the-art digital seismic equipment and will transmit data in real time to the 24x7 Earthquake Monitoring Centre of the National Centre for Seismology in New Delhi. With the establishment of the new facility, Jammu and Kashmir now has four Seismological Observatories, including those at Jammu, Srinagar, Udhampur and Kishtwar.

Dr Jitendra Singh said the observatory would continuously monitor earthquake activity in the region and contribute to a better understanding of its seismic hazards. The information generated would also support the district administration and rescue teams in responding more effectively, besides helping in planning safer infrastructure.

Highlighting the transformation in meteorological infrastructure since 2014, Dr Jitendra Singh said that there was no Doppler Weather Radar coverage in the region earlier. After 2014, four Doppler Weather Radars have been installed at Banihal, Jot, Jammu and Srinagar, significantly expanding weather monitoring capabilities.

He further informed that four more Doppler Weather Radars are set to be commissioned in 2027 at Doda, Kishtwar, Anantnag and Baramulla, further strengthening weather surveillance and extending coverage across the region.

The Minister also highlighted the significant expansion of the Automatic Weather Station network. From three Automatic Weather Stations earlier at Udhampur, Kathua and Ramban, nine additional stations have been added, taking the total number to 12. These include four stations in Kishtwar, two each in Doda and Ramban, and one in Kathua.

Dr Jitendra Singh said that the expansion of scientific infrastructure has been guided by the needs and geographical vulnerabilities of the region. He noted that administrative boundaries may change, but geographical challenges remain, making it essential to strengthen weather monitoring and early warning systems across vulnerable areas.

A total of 50 coal mines received Five-Star Ratings for FY 2024-25. South Africa Dominate Bangladesh After Bowling Them Out for 91

Centurion, Nov 23 (Open Frame): South Africa seized control of the second Test against Bangladesh in Centurion after their fast bowlers dismantled the visitors for just 91 on the opening day. Despite losing the entire morning session to rain, the hosts made up for lost time with a ruthless bowling performance before finishing the day just three runs short of Bangladesh's total at 88 for 1. All five South African bowlers contributed to the collapse, with Bangladesh lasting only 33.3 overs after being sent in to bat under overcast conditions. Play eventually began more than three hours behind schedule, with South Africa winning the toss and choosing to exploit the conditions.

Marco Jansen wasted little time in making an impact, drawing an outside edge from Tanzid Hasan Tamim in the second over. Mahfijul Islam briefly counterattacked against Kagiso Rabada, finding the boundary twice in the third over, but struggled to deal with the movement on offer. A few more streaky shots brought him some runs before Anrich Nortje ended his stay in the 14th over. Nortje, returning to the side after another spell on the sidelines with injury, struck again almost immediately. The fast bowler removed Bangladesh skipper Najmul Hossain Shanto just two deliveries after dismissing Mahfijul, leaving the visitors in trouble. The wickets continued to come at regular intervals. Wiaan Mulder forced Mominul Haque into chopping the ball onto his stumps in the 21st over, before Jansen returned to send Litton Das back with an edge behind the wicket. Simon Harmer then joined the party, having Towhid Hridoy caught at slip in the final over before Tea after the batter had struck him for a six.

Bangladesh went into the break at 85 for 6, and their hopes of mounting a recovery were quickly extinguished after the resumption. Rabada took charge of the lower order, dismissing Shoriful Islam, Jaker Ali and Taskin Ahmed in successive overs. Jansen completed the job by removing Khaled Ahmed, bringing Bangladesh's innings to an end at 91.

South Africa's openers wasted little time in responding, taking the attack to the Bangladesh bowlers with a series of boundaries during the first seven overs. Aiden Markram looked comfortable at the crease after surviving an LBW appeal that was overturned on review in the second over. However, his innings ended in the ninth when he edged Ebadot Hossain behind.

Bangladesh had opportunities to make further inroads but failed to capitalise. Marques Ackerman was fortunate to survive an LBW appeal in the third over after the visitors opted against reviewing the decision, while Zubayr Hamza was put down in the 11th.

Those missed chances proved costly as Ackerman took full advantage, scoring freely against a wayward bowling attack. Bangladesh struggled to maintain discipline, giving away 12 extras, including 11 wides, as South Africa steadily closed in on their opponents' total.

Ackerman remained unbeaten on 46 from 53 balls, guiding the hosts to 88 for 1 at Stumps. With only three runs separating the teams, South Africa finished a rain-hit opening day firmly on top and in a commanding position to take control of the Test.

Mitchell, Phillips Rescue New Zealand as First Test Ends in Draw

Wellington, Nov 23 (Open Frame): Daryl Mitchell and Glenn Phillips produced a stubborn rearguard act to deny India an improbable victory as New Zealand escaped with a draw in the first Test at the Basin Reserve here on Monday. With India's commanding first-innings total having ruled out any hope of a home win, the Black Caps dug in for 75 overs on the final day to complete their great escape, as their second innings ended at 239/5 in 120 overs.

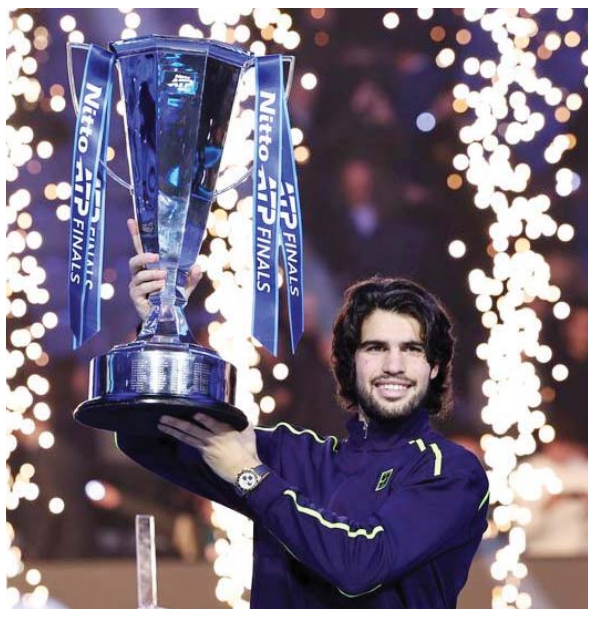

India, dominant throughout the game, could prise out only three wickets on the final day's play. The teams shook hands when it was clear that India would not get the remaining five wickets in the next hour. With both teams getting four points, the result has hurt India's World Test Championship (WTC) final hopes, with their points percentage (PCT) at 50, while New Zealand drop out of the top two standings. Mitchell batted 186 balls for an unbeaten 49 while Phillips stayed not out on 26 off 126 balls. Their unbroken sixth-wicket partnership of 63 runs lasted 258 balls. Rather than lunging forward, the duo kept playing the ball under their eyes and trusted their defence to be rock-solid on a lifeless pitch.

India entered the final session needing five wickets in 39 overs. Rishabh Pant stood up to the stumps for Anshul Kamboj, and the pressure showed when India conceded a no-ball for three men stationed behind square on the leg side. Mitchell occasionally hit back by pulling Washington Sundar onto the grass banks for six and reverse-sweeping him for four. After Kamboj finished his spell, Akash Deep took over, even as Mitchell warned Phillips about his bowling angles.

Mitchell endured 43 balls without a run, and it helped that Jasprit Bumrah was well short of his best pace and managed to bowl only two overs. KL Rahul took charge while Shubman Gill was in the dressing room with head coach Gautam Gambhir. Washington Sundar was sure he had Mitchell trapped lbw and talked KL Rahul into taking a review despite Pant's view that the ball pitched outside leg. Pant's view was right as India lost the review.

Alcaraz Beats Zverev to Win First ATP Finals Title

Turin, Nov 23 (Open Frame): Carlos Alcaraz brought his season to a memorable close by defeating Alexander Zverev 6-2, 7-6(6) in the ATP Finals title clash on Sunday, claiming the prestigious year-end championship for the first time in his career. The Spaniard produced a commanding display against the German, combining aggressive baseline play with tactical variation to secure his 30th career title and sixth of the season. The victory also made him only the third Spaniard, after Manuel Orantes (1976) and Alex Corretja (1998), to lift the ATP Finals trophy.

While the opening set was largely dictated by Alcaraz, the contest took a dramatic turn in the second-set tie-break, where the 23-year-old found himself staring at three consecutive set points. Trailing 3-6, he responded with remarkable composure, winning six of the next seven points to shut the door on Zverev and seal the championship in two hours and one minute.

Vasseur Slams Ferrari Drivers After Las Vegas Clash

Las Vegas, Nov 23 (Open Frame): Ferrari team principal Fred Vasseur has flayed his drivers Charles Leclerc and Lewis Hamilton for another costly tangle in the Las Vegas Grand Prix and said it was a case of lack of respect for the team on the part of both drivers. Just two races ago in Mexico, Leclerc and Hamilton had clashed in the first lap of the race, which cost the Maranello team a shot at a potential victory.

That incident was followed by a summit meeting in Vasseur's hotel room on the Thursday evening before the Sao Paulo Grand Prix, during which both drivers and their team boss aired their views.

It was felt after the meeting that the air had been cleared and there was a new understanding between Hamilton and Leclerc. That was proved correct when they briefly ran together on track early in the race in Brazil, and there was no issue. In Las Vegas, they both worked their way up the field after a poor qualifying session where both exited in Q2, and once again they found themselves fighting for the same piece of track lap after lap. Leclerc was heard asking for Hamilton to be "careful with the squeezing because it's not going to end well," while Lewis said, "Can you tell him to back the * off because I'm trying to catch the guys ahead." The team in turn urged Leclerc to be cautious with Hamilton.

However, on Lap 37, everyone's worst nightmare came true when they were battling for P6, and Leclerc knocked Hamilton into a spin, costing the latter four places. Hamilton managed to recover to seventh by the flag, while a 10-second penalty saw

Ram Gopal Varma Says Real-Life Powerful Men Don't Need Six-Packs

Pointing out that unlike the tough guys in films who sport toned biceps with six-packs, none of the tough guys of real life had any muscles, well known filmmaker Ram Gopal Varma on Monday opined that in real life, the man who owned a six-pack always worked under the man who never bothered to have a six-pack!

Taking to his X timeline to pen his thoughts on the issue, Ram Gopal Varma, in a post titled "The irony of tough heroes hiding behind bullet proof glasses" wrote, "Starting from before, or even #Bahubali onwards, one fact the mainstream films ignored, is that unlike the tough guys in films who sport toned biceps with six-packs, none of the tough guys of real life have any muscles."

He went on to claim, "Mostly, the real life muscled six-packers work under thin, short , fat, lanky or pot bellied guys. In films, the guy with the toned biceps and six packs is automatically the toughest. In real life, that same guy is usually the one standing behind the short, balding, pot bellied man who has never seen the inside of a gym and is also paying the salary for the six-pack guy to live!"

Citing Napoleon's case to make his point, Ram Gopal Varma wrote, "Napoleon was 5'6" with the physique of an overfed clerk, but still had most of Europe's tough guys doing his work. The super short five feet four inch Stalin looked like a sleightly fit potato while his actual NKVD enforcers and military officers who carried out his orders were much fitter but whose impressive physiques were irrelevant next to the man who could have them shot."

The filmmaker went on to give more examples to further validate his statement. He wrote, "Most mafia bosses from Capone onwards including Pablo Escobar and our own dear Dawood Ibrahim were not known for their beach toned bodies. The real tough ones who killed for them tended to be the lowest level guys who get paid the least and the most dispensable."

Pointing out that the Indian political scene was "full of the same", he said, "You regularly see lean, soft, or outright pot bellied men who have never lifted anything heavier than a phone being flanked by the six foot, gym built guards surrounding them like slaves."

Ram Gopal Varma said that even in the military, the generals who actually moved armies were never the ones who could pass a fitness test. "The extremely fit ones are the lowest paid soldiers while fat pot bellied men above them decided on how the fit men should fight , while they themselves stayed out of the bullets way," he explained.

He concluded his post saying, "So, the six-pack in cinema is less a symbol of power and more of a decoration. In real life, the man who owns the six pack always works under the man who never bothered to have a six-pack!"
